Use sticky-tac putty to stick a picture on top of another picture. OR, if using the Story Scenes to tell the story, disregard the storyboard picture references listed below.

(SB1) The sun was setting as Jesus and his disciples gathered for supper. It would be their last meal together, their last hours together, before "IT" happened. What was "IT"?

What do you think the "IT" was that was about to happen?

Enemies would come and take Jesus. He would suffer and die on the cross for the sins of God's people.

Jesus knew "IT" was about to happen, but His disciples did not. With only a little time left to teach and prepare them, what did Jesus want them to remember? And how would He tell them?

What do you think Jesus would use to teach them?

Jesus would use FEET and FOOD, right there at the table, to teach them.

Now, feet are always dirty, but they were especially so in Jesus' world. There were no cars back then and very few stone roads. It was walk, walk, walk on sandy, muddy, dirty ground. Camels and donkeys shared with roads, adding more stuff to step in. And, since people wore sandals or went barefoot, you can imagine just how yucky your feet could get. Yes, feet were yucky things and washing them was an everyday, before each meal, dirty business. And so dirty, that only you or your lowest servant would ever touch your feet.

(SB2) Imagine how horrified the disciples were when Jesus got up from the table that night and began to wash their feet! "Teacher, never wash my feet!" Peter exclaimed. The others agreed. Jesus was God's Son. He shouldn't use His holy, perfect life to clean their dirty, yucky feet!

But Jesus just kept washing. "You can have no part in what I'm doing, if I don't wash your feet," Jesus told Peter. This was a teaching picture about the "IT" Jesus was about to do for them the next day, when He would give up His life on the cross to clean the sin from their hearts. It was something only He could do for them.

Jesus had taught them with feet, now He would teach them more about "IT" with food. Jesus took the bread and wine and gave them to his disciples as two more teaching pictures. (SB3) "This is my body, broken for you," He told them, as He held out the bread to them to eat. "This is my blood, poured out for you," He told them, as He held out the wine for them to drink. These were pictures of what Jesus would do that next day for them. On the cross, Jesus' body would be broken, and His blood would be poured as the full payment for the sins of God's people. Jesus would use His holy, perfect life to clean the sin from their hearts.

Why would Jesus do such a thing? Why would He suffer and die for God's people? (SB4) There is only one reason: love. Love for God, His Father. And love for God's people. This was God's plan to save His people. This was the only way. And, as much as Jesus did not like to hurt and suffer, He loved His Father and God's people even more.

(SB5) "I am about to go away," Jesus told His disciples. "I am making the way for you and all of God's people to come to God. I am going to prepare a place for you to live with God forever. One happy day, I will come back for you to take you home to be with Me," Jesus told them.

"Don't be upset. I'm not leaving you alone. I am sending you a special Comforter-- the Holy Spirit," Jesus promised them. "He will live in your hearts. He will keep us close. He will give you power to do everything God wants you to do," Jesus explained.

Story with lines separating paragraphs (text in bold, optional interaction cues in italics)

(But what DID God want them to do? It went back to that one word for everything Jesus did.

Can you guess what that word is?

That one word was “love.”

(SB6) “Show your love for Me by obeying everything I’ve taught you,” Jesus told His disciples. “Love one another as I have loved You. I have loved you so much that I am even going to suffer and die on the cross to be the Savior you need. There is no greater love than that! Now I want you to love each other that much, too!” Jesus told them. “And when you care for each other’s needs like this, others will know that you really are My disciples and God’s people,” He promised them.

Soon everything happened just as Jesus said it would. (SB7) Soldiers came that night and arrested Jesus. The next day, Jesus suffered and died on the cross for the sins of God’s people. (SB8) Then, friends came for His body, wrapped it in sweet-smelling spices and clean, white linen, and buried Him in a cave grave. It looked like it was the end for Jesus, but was it?

What do you think?

No, it was not! (SB9) On Sunday, the third day, Jesus rose from the dead. (SB10) He appeared to His disciples and taught them many things. (SB11) Then He went up, up, up through the clouds to rule in heaven. Jesus was gone. Was His help gone, too?

What do you think?

No, it was not! Just as Jesus promised, (SB12) He sent the Holy Spirit to live in the hearts of His disciples. And with the Holy Spirit’s help, they lived out what Jesus had told them to do.

“Love Me by obeying My commands! Love one another as I have loved you!” Jesus had told them. So, they spread the good news in love. (SB13) “Turn away from disobeying God. Trust in Jesus as your Savior. Be baptized,” they urged all who would listen.

The Holy Spirit helped the listeners believe. (SB14) The little church of Christians grew from eleven to 120 to over 3000 people in just a few weeks!

“Love Me by obeying My commands! Love one another as I have loved you!” Jesus had told them. (SB15) So, they gathered together in love for God and each other. (SB16) Peter and Jesus’ other disciples led the believers as their pastors/elders. They preached from God’s Word. They comforted those who were scared and weak. They warned those who were forgetting how Jesus wanted them to live. They helped everyone live out Jesus’ commands. Their loving leadership was God’s good gift to His Church.

Every day, and especially on Sundays, the little church gathered together. As they gathered, the Holy Spirit worked in their hearts and encouraged them. (SB17) They learned from God’s Word. They fellowshiped and prayed together. They shared stories about the amazing things God was doing and urged each other to keep on loving God and living for Him. They ate the Lord’s Supper together --the special meal of bread and wine that Jesus gave them to eat together to remember His death. (SB18) They sang praised to their great God. Oh, how they wanted to worship and love the LORD together, just as Jesus told them to! And the Holy Spirit helped them do this.

Story with lines separating paragraphs (text in bold, optional interaction cues in italics)

But they didn't just worship and love the LORD. They loved one another like Jesus did, too. And so, when they gathered together, they promised to care for each other's needs.

(SB19) Why, these believers shared everything they had with each other—food, clothes, houses, money... EVERYTHING! And if anyone needed anything, they would sell their things and buy whatever was needed. (SB20) Some people, like Stephen, Philip, and Phoebe were chosen by the church to be deacons. These godly men and women led the little church in caring for the sick, old, and needy among them. They would make sure that no one was overlooked. Oh, how they wanted to love each other, as Jesus told them to! And with the help of God's Holy Spirit, they did.

What glad and giving hearts those first Christians had! How they loved God and one another! And as they did, guess who else noticed?

Can you guess?

(SB21) Everyone around them! "Look at these people! How they love God and one another! This is something very special," they exclaimed.

And so it was! For WHO did this church of believers look like, as they loved God and loved one another? Their Savior, Himself. Can you tell me His name?

Can you tell me?

It's Jesus!

"If you like what you see in us, it's because of Jesus!" the believers explained. "He has saved us and filled us with His Holy Spirit. He's the One changing our hearts, helping us love God and one another. Come gather with us! Let tell you about Jesus, and how you can become God's people, too!" they exclaimed.

Many years have passed since those first believers gathered together. Some things have changed since those early days, but the most important things have not. (SB22) Many years have passed since those first believers gathered together. Some things have changed since those early days, but the most important things have not. Jesus still calls His people to keep His commands and to love one another. He still wants them to share the good news of the gospel with everyone. And, He still wants them to gather together to worship God and love one another.

As they do, the Holy Spirit will keep working in God's people, helping them look like Jesus to others. "Tell us about Jesus who helps you love like this!" these people will say, and hopefully as they hear the good news of Jesus, they will trust in Him as their Savior, too!

Cracking the Case: (story wrap-up for Listening Assignments)

It's time to see how we did with our Listening Assignment.

Detective Dan's Lesson 1 Listening Assignment:
I need to know:

A copycat is a nickname for someone who tries to act like someone else.

1. Who were the people who tried to act like someone else? Jesus' followers, God's people.

2. And who was the someone they try to look like? Why? They tried to look like Jesus by how they loved God and loved each other.

For You and Me:

God's people want to love each other as Jesus has loved them. They love being a part of God's care for His people. And, when God's people love like Jesus, they help others see what God is like, and be a part of God's plan to tell them the good news of Jesus. We can become God's people, too, when we turn away from our sins and trust in Jesus as our Savior. Then He will work in our hearts and help us love God and love others, too.

I need to find out:

1. What was Jesus' love for His people like? He chose to put their needs first. He loved them so much that He was willing to suffer and die in their place, for their sins. There is no greater love than this!

2. Who wanted to obey Jesus' command to love one another as He had loved them? Who helped them do this? Jesus' followers did! The Holy Spirit living in their hearts helped them.

For You and Me:

God's people want to love each other as Jesus has loved them. They love being a part of God's care for His people. We can become God's people, too, when we turn away from our sins and trust in Jesus as our Savior. Then He will work in our hearts and help us love God and love others, too.

Detective Dan's Lesson 3 Listening Assignment:

Our six clues were: a little meal; the Holy Spirit in a heart; a doll; Pastor Peter; a can of soda; and some money.

1. Which four belong in our story?

The little meal, the Holy Spirit in a heart, Pastor Peter, and the money belong. The doll and the can of soda do not.

2. Who prayed for each other and cared for each other's needs? Jesus' followers, God's people.

For You and Me:

God's people want to love each other as Jesus has loved them. They love being a part of God's care for His people. The Gospel (story wrap-up if NOT using Listening Assignments)Our Bible Truth is:

Why Do God's People Go to Church?

To Worship God and Love One Another...

By Caring for Each Other's Needs!

Why do God's people go to church? To worship God and love one another... by taking care of each other's needs.

God's people love to tell others the good news of Jesus. Why? Because the greatest need that all people have is for God to forgive their sins! You see, we all have chosen to turn away from God and disobey His good laws. We don't deserve His love or to be His people. We deserve His punishment instead. How sad!

But God, in His great mercy, has provided us a way to be forgiven our sins and to become His people. How? Through His Son, Jesus. Jesus came to earth and lived a perfect life. On the cross, He chose to suffer and die, giving up His life as the full payment for sins. On the third day, Jesus rose up from the grave. He had done it! He had beaten sin and death for God's people! Now, all who turn away from their sins and trust in Jesus as their Savior receive God's forgiveness. This is how they become God's people forever. God can help you do this, too! Ask Him to help you! He loves to answer this prayer.
Close in prayer.
